

OPTIMISM

Suppose my days are numbered –
Shal I sit down and cry,
And spend the time in idleness,
Just waiting till I die?

Oh, no, the ladder I have climbed
Is one that reaches far,
And I'm convinced the topmost rung
Is resting on a star.

by Alice Whitson Norton

From: The Lighted Pathway
Vol. 29, No. 1, Pg. 24
January, 1958